"COMMUNITY VOICE"

Al Pimentel will be appearing as a guest on a new WDVM-TV (Channel 9) program, "Community Voice," on Sunday, March 4, at 1:45 p.m. Al will be speaking about hearing impaired individuals in today's society and about programs offered at Gallaudet College.

JOB LISTINGS

Every Monday the Personnel Office distributes, through campus mail, the weekly job posting. If your office has not been receiving the job posting please contact Trudy Moore at ext. 318.

NIELSEN RATINGS

The Nielsen ratings, which often make or break television shows, have revealed the relative success of And Your Name Is Jonah and last Saturday's The Kitty O'Neal Story. The pro-sign language, Jonah, came in an impressive 12th for its week while Kitty's story tied for 45th. Both films were special CBS-TV offerings which reflect the television industry's growing interest in programs involving deaf characters.

SPEAK OUT

The recent near-blizzard that gave us the rare opportunity to celebrate George Washington's Birthday along with the rest of the nation has raised a question in my mind.

Taking into consideration that Gallaudet's deaf population has a harder time finding out whether the College is open or not, what with the news media hardly ever bothering to caption their broadcasts on the radio (huh?) and on TV, isn't there a number on campus that we (who are probably why Gallaudet exists in the first place) deaf ones can call to find out whether we should stay in bed or not??

Someone told me to call Security. I don't think that's good. They have more important things to do than to serve as a "YES/NO" switchboard. If there's no number to call, then I suggest that Gallaudet establish an automatic TTY answering service that need only be in operation during emergencies to broadcast whether or not the College is open.

Then I won't have to stay home chewing my fingers and wondering whether to bless or curse the weather.

ENERGY TIPS FROM JIM HULL

"Some Valentine!"

"On Valentine Day 1979, the College consumed a thousand gallons more oil than a tractor-trailer can haul. A total of nearly 8000 gallons in one 24 hour day.

"This equates to the volume in 29 average residential fuel oil tanks, or in another way, $2.53 every minute.

"This is presented to stimulate your thinking -- how can you help us conserve?"

BRINGING THE CHILD'S CULTURE INTO THE CLASSROOM

Washington Association Education of Young Children and the Martin Luther King Library are sponsoring workshops to focus on ways to appreciate and validate each child's unique culture and life experiences on March 10th, Saturday, from 9:00 to 2:30 p.m. at MLK Library, 901 G. St., NW and University of D.C. (across the mall from MLK). Interpreters will be provided.

For more information, contact Mary Yeh at ext. 413 (TTY) or Carol Erting at ext. 392 (Voice).

AMONG OURSELVES

--Gerilee Gustason of the Department of Education has returned from a semester's sabbatical leave during which she visited several school programs across the country evaluating the English skills of students whose parents stated they used Signing Exact English. She is preparing a report on her findings while back at work coordinating the orientation program for new preparatory and freshman students for the coming year. She will again be listed in the 1979 edition of Who's Who of American Women.

--Lucille Pendell, Head Librarian at Gallaudet for many years, is in the Woodbine Nursing Home, 2729 King, Alexandria, Va. 22302. Cards and letters from her friends would be appreciated.

WELCOME

--The Office of General Services is pleased to announce the appointment of Ms. Sheila Curran as the Coordinator of Staff Development and Training.

Ms. Curran's office is located in College Hall, Room 309 and she can be reached on ext. 581. Please feel free to contact Sheila with any questions you may have related to training and development.

--The Physical Plant is pleased to introduce their new Utilities Manager, Mr. Ray Cook. Ray can be contacted by calling ext. 771 (Voice) or 515 (TTY).
